Copyright

The submitting author guarantees that the manuscript is capable of copyright protection and that no other copyright or other rights have been violated.

With acceptance of the manuscript all exploitation rights are transferred to the publisher. The submitted article or parts of it may not be translated into other languages, or reproduced in any form, or stored on disk or a computer system without the written permission of the publisher.

The submitting author is responsible for reprint permission (German / English) of material from other publications. Already published material (also in modified form) from publications of other publishers can only be considered if the submitting author proves to have the perpetual copyright permission (also for the online version) of the publisher of the original material.
